

Financial Analyst – Clinical Trials

Fox Chase Cancer Center

<https://www.foxchase.org/>

Responsible for the development and management of financial activities related to clinical research activities. This includes the development of clinical research budgets, performing of research coverage analysis, creating and sending invoices, posting and reconciling payments, initiating check requests for clinical research activities, providing coverage for research financial counseling activities, developing finance related clinical research procedures and policies, and providing administrative assistance to leadership for research related activities.

Education

Bachelors Degree (Required)

Combination of relevant education and experience may be considered in lieu of degree.

Experience

2 Years experience in clinical trials budget development and contracts management (Required)

2 Years experience with clerical and bookkeeping and/or medical billing on an automated system (Required)

Contact:

Amber Medlin, Recruiter

215-728-0567; amber.medlin@fcc.edu